As we live in a world striving to throw pandemic behind his shoulders and "go back to normality", we realize that many issues remain unchallenged in the "new normal".

Out of these, wealth, inequalities and need for fair justice and taxation remain still somehow unaddressed: capital gains and cryptocurrencies-related business are clear examples of these.

The purpose of the seminar is to cast light on capital gains, cryptos and NFT taxation in Germany, Hungary, and Italy (possibly, in other countries too) bringing students and academics to discuss together about this.

The seminar is arranged according to a bottom – up approach, with students under the spotlight and acting as discussants of their colleagues' presentations.
